THE POET PRIEST OF THE SOUTH MAKES A SENSATION IN

[New York Enn.]

NEW YORK.

The poet priest, Father Ryan, of Mobile, preached in St. Stephen's Roman Cathelic Church in Twenty-eighth street at 10:30 A. M yesterday, and the usual congregation who listened to his eloquent and logical sermon returned to the lecture in the evening, reinforced by at least a thousand more persons than was in the church in the morning. As soon as the church doors were opened the throngs who were waiting surged into the edifice, and as fast as the tickets could be taken they were accommodated with seats, until every pew in the body of the church and both in the side aisles were filled.

pectful and music loving as Catholi Respectful and music loving as Catholic congregations are, that in St. Stephen's last night, showed signs of impatience that the floods of melody from the organ loft should cosse, and permit them to listen to the orator; and when at last Father Ryan made his appearance with Dr. McGlynn, the flutter of expectation became audible, and as he are pearance with Dr. McGlynn, the flutter of expectation became audible, and as he ascended the pulpit, many rose from their seats and stretched their necks to catch a better view of the small, ungraceful, unpretending man that stood before them. He looked neither the poet nor the orator. But when he had finiahed reading from the eighteenth chapter of the Gospel of St. John, the account of Pilate's last interview with Jesus, in a ringing, sonorous voice, that penetrated like a sharp bell to all parts of the building, and stood selective saying on the multipude after uttering the words: "What is truthed the continue was and mour upon the multitude and mour upon the multitud and answered, and ere his answer could be heard, Pilate returned to the multitude with-out who clamored for his blood. Before Pilate he stood in the guise of a malefactor, and he, the haughty Roman whose banner had flashed in victory in every quarter of the world, asked a man fettered and bound, "Are For an hour and twenty minutes he held his auditors enchanted by a succession of alternate logical points and flowers of poetic metaphor and symbolism, mosaicked in a stream of pure and elegant English.

As soon as he began speaking his form and face glowed with the fire of elequence, and every movement and gesture was full of impassioned grace and beautiful in express-ion. His small and well formed hands are as ion. His small and well formed hands are as expressive as his tace. His concluding words were: "Ever since that Good Friday truth has become a coronet linked with a sorrow. They nailed his feet to the cross, but instead of stopping them in their pathway it made them strong to travel through ages with his children. Roses fade, but thorns endure through years and ages. Truth was cradled before the human race was cradled and earth and humanity will was cradled, and earth and humanity will die before its de profundts will be sung. Truth never wears a perhaps. It is an everlasting yes. She is as intolerant of uncer-tainty as arithmetic and geometry are. They laugh at your efforts to make twice two three

The park commissioners are of opinion that it will cost $5,000,000 to complete the new Natural history building in Central Park, to give ample room for the minerals, fossils and long completed tract of the give animals. The wild animals of the soo-logical collection take up a large amount of ute room in the park buildings, and it costs the city a great deal more money to keep them or for the occupancy of their families during the heated term, and ultimately to make the properly warmed, but they are a source of great amusement to the nurses and children."

SPECIAL NOTICES. ---

To all, particularly invalids, spring is a trying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases may be caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and the system to remain in a deorder-d condition, until the disorder-has time to develop itself. An ounce of preventio is worth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore, we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent-headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, naneway, or severish akin, to take, without delay, schenck's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and d cisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. People never Leed suffer from any disease arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indications of the melady. Familie-leaving home for the summer months should take three or four boxes of these pills with them. They have an armost insarance there. They will be with the provide and the summer of the summer force.
